The Sun is the star at the center of the Solar System. It is a nearly perfect sphere of hot plasma, with internal convective motion that generates a magnetic field via a dynamo process. It is by far the most important source of energy for life on Earth. Its diameter is about 1.39 million kilometers (864,000 miles), or 109 times that of Earth, and its mass is about 330,000 times that of Earth.

Brushless Generators: Among the most common because of their inexpensive construction, brushless generators have the least reliable voltage control. Brushless generators can't react quickly to changing loads, either producing low power (a brownout) or high power. Fluctuations of this nature will cause voltage sensitive equipment like HMI lights to shut off, or will damage sensitive electronics.
